CONSERVATION EFFORTS

Fireflies are cherished but they are declining.

You can help:
Provide habitat. Set aside an area of your yard or garden where things can get a little messy. Avoid pesticides which can kill fireflies. Turn off any unnecessary outdoor lights which can cause fireflies to become disoriented. Participate in Community Science Projects that track Firefly Counts.

PET OF THE WEEK

PAIGE

Meet Paige!
Hi, I'm Paige, and I'm about as resilient a creature as you'll ever find. I was first brought to Stray Cat Blues a few months ago after my previous owner was evicted from her home and I was left behind. I'd lived there for all my 6 years and suddenly found myself without a home and without a person. I was covered in fleas and was too sad to eat for a while.
And then the vet discovered that I have a grade 3 heart murmur--an echocardiogram showed that I have cardiomyopathy. I don't need treatment for it; the vet said it's just something to recheck down the road.

You'd think with all these obstacles that I'd be angry or shut down. But that's just not me. My foster mama says I am truly the sweetest kitty around! I love to purr and make biscuits on my foster mama. I also really love other kitties. My ideal forever family would be someone who will give me the love and attention that I crave, and who is not deterred by my medical condition. Oh! I should also mention that my adoption fee is paid for!
If you're looking for a sweet, gentle kitty to cuddle, please give me a chance. I promise to always remind you that just like me, you can get through those dark days. There are always purrs at the end of the tunnel--and I'll help you find them.
To meet Paige, go to straycatblues.org or call 215-631-1851. Stray Cat Blues is a 501(c)(3) non-profit that's been rescuing area cats for more than 25 years. In addition to fostering and adopting friendly cats and kittens, we Trap, Neuter and Return (TNR) feral cats.

GARDEN TIPS

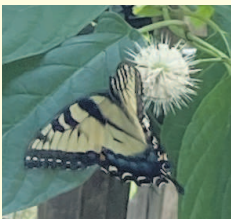

The “Buzz” about Native Plants

By Carol Schroding, Gardening Enthusiast and former owner of Northeast Native Perennials

What Can I Plant In A Wet Area?

Wet areas can definitely be viewed as difficult areas; but as we mentioned last week, there are native plants that thrive in these areas in nature and can be utilized to benefit the environment, the pollinators and your landscape. If you want to build a rain garden, which generally requires removing some soil and adding amendments to increase water infiltration, there are many articles online regarding how to accomplish this. If your area is generally wet after rainfall and drains within 48 hours, it is ideal for a rain garden or for simply planting it with moisture-loving plants to take up excess water.

For our purposes, we will focus on which native plants tolerate “wet feet.” Beginning with some shrubs, Winterberry Holly (Ilex verticillata) is a wonderful shrub for the birds and tolerates a wet area. Known for its vibrant red berries that persist after the leaves drop, you will need male and female plants for fruit production. Only one male is needed for multiple female plants. Another favorite shrub for wet is Buttonbush (Cephalanthus occidentalis) with its unusual white round spiky flowers that are pollinator magnets. Finally, Sweet Pepperbush (Clethra alnifolia) blooms in late summer with fragrant pink or white flowers and provides great late-season nectar for the pollinators; a beautiful addition to any garden!

There are many lovely native herbaceous perennials for wet or moist areas. Some of my favorites are Swamp Milkweed (Asclepias incarnata), also a favorite of the Monarch Butterflies, Cardinal Flower (Lobelia cardinalis), a favorite of the Hummingbirds, Northern Blue Flag (Iris versicolor), a wonderful early bloomer, and White Turtlehead (Chelone glabra), a late summer bloomer with showy spikes of blooms resembling turtle’s heads and attracting bees and butterflies. All the above thrive in sun or part-shade and moist to wet soils.

There are also some wonderful native grasses to mix into your wet area including Big Bluestem (Andropogon gerardii), Switchgrass (Panicum virgatum), and Pennsylvania Sedge (Carex pennsylvanica), among others. Native grasses are great for erosion control, improving water quality and providing habitat for wildlife.

Next Week: Fun with Shade Gardening!

To the property owner in Quakertown. They have a large dog with a low fence that the dog can put its whole head over and at times has put its front paws on the fence. PENN COMMUNITY BANK, ST. LUKE'S AND FREE FALL TEAM UP TO KEEP OUR FUTURE SUPERSTARS WELL-NOURISHED

Part of having good health is knowing that you can count on a meal when you are hungry. The St. Luke's Summer Meals program aims to make food insecurity for children and teens non-existent in our community. Each summer, kids and teens can find a welcoming space along with a healthy, delicious meal 5 days a week at Free Fall Action Park, 670 S. Main Street in Quakertown thanks to the St. Luke's Summer Meals program. Penn Community Bank has been a consistent supporter of this program for approximately 5 years. On July 22nd, 2026, Penn Community re-affirmed their commitment to stamping out food insecurity for our youngsters with a substantial donation to the program. Fresh, healthy meals are served onsite to children and teens 18 and younger. No sign-up or ID is necessary. For more information, visit Free Fall Action Park or contact St. Luke's Community Health at 484-526-2100.

I NEED A SPECIAL SOMEONE TO ADOPT ME FROM LOGAN'S HEROES ANIMAL RESCUE!

Angie: 5-year-old Bernese Mountain Dog rescued from a breeder. Angie does well in a crate where she can see out and seems to enjoy that as her safe space.

Special Needs: Angie is doing her best to figure out what it means to live in a house.
A quiet home with a fenced yard is a must for Angie. She is skittish with loud noises and quick movements. A cancerous lump was found on Angie's leg when she came into Rescue. It was completely removed at the same time she had her spay surgery. There is no way to know if it will recur.

Angie will need a home that will spoil her no matter how long she may have.

Learn more about Angie at www.lharinc.org.

THUMBS UP

To the customers of the super convenient convenience store that does not have automatic doors. Everyone always seems to hold the door for the next person. It's refreshing to see all that random kindness between strangers. Maybe we need more stores without automatic doors so we can experience a pleasant interaction with our fellow human beings more often.

FIRE ONE’S ANTIQUE FIRE MUSTER

Fire One’s Antique Fire Muster was a fun and informative day. Approximately 30 fire trucks from antique to sparkling new were on display. Kids even had an opportunity to put out a (pretend) fire with the help of a firefighter. Congratulations to Hazel M. from Jamison who won the Ben Franklin silver firefighters medal from Penny Power.
