OUR LEATHER

EXENTRI®

Our wallets are made of top-grain cowhide leather, tanned under good working conditions with care and attention to the environment. We use only high-quality leather to ensure durability, longevity, and a luxurious look and feel. Our leather is a sustainable product by origin because it is a by-product of the food industry, that would otherwise have been thrown away. When you choose an EXENTRI Wallet you are helping to repurpose leather waste and contribute to a circular economy.

Our wallets are made to last. Created with durable materials and excellent craftsmanship, as well as a high focus on timeless and classic design with modern touches to retain its relevance for years to come. An excellent investment for those who appreciate quality and functionality and a mindful way to lower consumption. If you take good care of your wallet, it can be with you for over a decade.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

We take responsibility in the manufacturing of the EXENTRI Wallets. Our wallets are not mass produced but handmade by skilled craftsmen in a factory which is specialized in the production of high-end bags and leather goods. We have had a close relationship with our manufacturer since 2009. A relationship that ensures the best quality and that our wallets are ethically sourced. Our factory has a variety of certifications, including BSCI and ISO9001.

A NORWEGIAN INVENTION

Norway is a country where nature makes its own laws, where you are inspired to think innovatively and differently. EXENTRI Wallets are the result of two men being challenged by their surroundings. They made it their mission to design wallets that combined functionality with classic style and modern demands.
