

Case Study: Wellspect®

At Wellspect we pride ourselves on sustainability, so switching from plastic tape and paper tape was huge for us.

The Challenge

At Wellspect we send out  parcels of all shapes and sizes and we found that we were using about 15 different box types! We pride ourselves on sustainability, so we needed to switch to eco-friendly packaging.

Springpack helped to reduce the number of different box types from 15 down to 5! They also helped us switch from plastic tape to paper tape, and from packaging paper to recycled air bubbles, which strengthens our sustainability message.

We get returns from our patients, and Springpack provided us with the solution of returnable postal boxes to make it easier for our patients.

Thanks to Springpack, our operations are now a lot more sustainable, we are a lot more efficient and our returns process is much simpler.

We've always had a long, strong relationship with Springpack, who cater to our many needs, and their focus on sustainability as much as ours makes them
the perfect packaging partner for us.

Their service is faultless!

We pride ourselves on sustainability, so switching to recycled air bubbles was great for us.

At Wellspect, we get returns from our patients, so having the reusable boxes is key to us.

Springpack's focus on sustainability as much as ours makes them the perfect packaging partner.
