GARDEN TIPS

The “Buzz” about Native Plants

By Carol Schroding,
Gardening Enthusiast and former owner of Northeast Native Perennials

If you are like me, you are always looking for the next plant showing signs of life in the spring!

Creeping Phlox (Phlox stolonifera) occurs in flower colors of white, pink and lavender. It forms a sweet ground cover of teardrop-shaped leaves with blooms appearing about 4-5 inches above the leaves in early spring. It performs best in full sun to part shade and and is drought tolerant once established, but should be kept moist in the first year, under dry conditions. It provides a valuable nectar source for butterflies and hummingbirds.

Northern Blue Flag (Iris versicolor) blooms a beautiful blue/purple in spring. It prefers a moist soil and can also grow in up to 4 inches of standing water! It attracts butterflies, bees and hummingbirds. It will spread gradually by rhizome, over time, to form a dense colony. It is perfect for rain gardens, bog gardens and any consistently moist area!

Eastern Red Columbine's (Aquilegia canadensis) peak bloom occurs just as the hummingbirds arrive from Mexico and are an important source of nectar for them! It likes part-sun to part-shade and slightly acidic (no more than 6.0 ph) to alkaline soil. In neutral soils it will self-sow freely. In nature it often thrives over limestone bedrock. In landscapes it likes to grow next to foundations, sidewalks or in rock gardens where the soil is more alkaline.

Next time: Some Spring-blooming shrubs for your garden!

PET OF THE WEEK

VICTOR

Meet Victor!

It's not easy to be this handsome and charming, but someone's got to do it. I had to work hard to build this confidence, as I came from a pretty sad situation--I lived behind an apartment complex where I had to beg for food every day and dodge rocks being thrown by the landlord. Once I came into the rescue, I realized how good life could be. I'm about 2 years old, and I've become a calm, gentle kitty who loves to play with toys and people. My favorite things are sitting in the window and feeling the breeze in my whiskers, and rolling over like a flopping, purring fish for belly rubs. I like other cats, and I don't even mind dogs (unless they drool--I have a gorgeous tuxedo coat to maintain, after all). I am the whole cat package! Now I just need my forever person. Is it you? I sure hope so.

To meet Victor, go to straycatblues.org or call 215-631-1851. Stray Cat Blues is a 501(c)3 non-profit that's been rescuing area cats for more than 25 years. In addition to fostering and adopting friendly cats and kittens, we Trap, Neuter and Return (TNR) feral cats.

MAY IS NATIONAL ADOPT A HORSE MONTH

We all admire horses. But adopting one is very different from adopting a cat, dog, or guinea pig. National Adopt A Horse Month is a great time to learn about caring for horses and to raise awareness about the many adoptable horses in our community. I was recently treated to a "meet and greet" with some of these magnificent beings at Last Chance Ranch.

An average horse weighs between 900 and 1200 pounds and their average life span is 25 to 30 years. Many horses actually live longer than 30 years! Due to their weight alone (and of course plenty of other factors), it's super important that horses learn from an early age to be respectful toward people. Consistent training is important. Most horses learn to be ridden when they are around 3-4 years old. There are many professional trainers available to help both horse and owner understand one another.

Horses are by their nature herd animals. Most enjoy the company of other horses. Many owners choose to board their horse with other horses so they don't feel alone. Certain breeds of horses perform exceptionally well as therapy animals. Other breeds excel at racing and jumping.

Horses need annual vet checks and vaccines. Unfortunately their teeth grow throughout their lives and so it is vital to have them checked by an equine dentist regularly to make sure there are no sharp points that would cause pain. And they also need to see a farrier who trims and shapes their hooves to promote proper balance.

Horses are majestic and beautiful. We all need a certain level of care and horses are no exception. But if being a horse parent is your dream, check out the beautiful equines (which includes cute donkeys) at Last Chance Ranch. LCR offers riding lessons and summer camp for kids focused on horse care. Learn more at LastChanceRanch.org.
