VIRTUAL SUPPORT GROUP
Alternatives to Suicide Support Group (NAMI) - Every 1st and 3rd Wednesday at 6:30pm. Support group provides a safe space in which two peers facilitate conversations about the human experience of choosing to stay in this world despite feelings of wanting to die. The groups will focus on connection (relationships building) and exploration (putting our suicidal thoughts in context and discerning our unique paths forward). Participants reclaim the notion of being able to name difficult themes/emotions, hold them in communal settings and build meaningful connections by sharing individual stories rather than by identifying a common diagnostic code in our medical charts. Register at revivalsoc.com/events.

PET OF THE WEEK

DOLCE

Meet Dolce!

Meet Dolce, an 11-year-old, 11-pound tan and white Chihuahua mix with a heart as sweet as her name suggests. Dolce is the definition of a gentle senior – quiet, affectionate, and content to simply be near you. She's low-energy, making her a perfect match for someone seeking a laid-back, cozy companion. Whether she's curled up in a soft bed or nestled beside you on the couch, Dolce is happiest when she feels safe and loved. Dolce is currently looking for a foster-to-adopt home while she prepares for a much-needed dental procedure.

Our adult dog adoption fee is $350, which includes each animal being fixed, up to date on core vaccines, microchipped, heartworm and/or 4dx tested, kept on monthly preventions, and dewormed. If you are interested in adopting any of our animals, please fill out an application on our website at: lastchanceranch.org.
PA Kennel License #4518

Last Chance Ranch® (LCR) provides a safe refuge for abused, unwanted or neglected animals. Last Chance Ranch® (LCR) is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to rescuing and rehabilitating equines, farm animals, and domestic companion animals. LCR also offers follow-up programs for adopters, educational seminars, and clinics. Learn more at lastchanceranch.org.

History Under Our Feet . . . In Plumstead Township

Article #2 by The Detectorist

Please note that metal detecting permits are required in most locations and permission is always required on private property.

An Unearthed Coin with Doan Gang Connection

Metal detecting is fun and unpredictable. On a recent permission in Plumstead Township, Bucks County, out pops a small shiny coin with a distant connection to the famous Doan Gang.

The coin, a small “half dime” is silver, so it shimmers brightly as it is recovered from the soil. On the obverse, “Seated Liberty” sits on a rock, shield in her right hand symbolizing her readiness to fight for freedom, and in her left hand she holds a pole topped with a liberty cap, representing freedom. The image is circled with 13 stars.

Below Lady Liberty is the date, clear as day, 1839, a date with a distant but important connection to the Doan Gang.

The notorious Doan Gang (don’t miss the fantastic exhibit at the Mercer Museum, Doylestown, through December 31) had a direct and significant connection to Plumstead Township. The founding members of the gang were born and raised in Plumstead. Their exploits included robbing the Newtown treasury and aiding the British during the Revolutionary War.

The Doans used their local knowledge of Plumstead and its surroundings to evade authorities, often hiding out in caves and safehouses provided by sympathizers.

Moses Doan, the gang leader, was killed in a shootout with a posse on August 28, 1783, near Fleecydale Road in Solebury Township, not far from Plumstead. Several others were subsequently rounded up, others fled to Canada.

In subsequent years the legacy of the Doan Gang slowly faded into local mythology. Until 1839. In that year, the exploits of the Doan family, infamous outlaws from the Revolutionary War era known as the “Plumstead Cowboys,” were featured in a serialized account in the “Record of the Volunteers of the United States,” a popular magazine at the time. This publication contributed to the ongoing mythologizing of the Doans in Bucks County, with their story frequently retold in local newspapers throughout the 19th century down to the present day.

A single lost half-dime in a quiet Plumstead field can bring interesting historical events to life.

GARDEN TIPS

The "Buzz" about Native Plants

By Carol Schroding,
Gardening Enthusiast and former owner of Northeast Native Perennials

More Spring-Blooming Perennials

By now, we are all out in our gardens enjoying the discovery of what is coming up, pulling early weeds, and loving the early blooms of spring!

Wild Geranium (Geranium maculatum) is a delicate but hardy native perennial with pink to lilac cup-shaped blooms that are attractive to early pollinators and bloom for about 6-7 weeks in mid to late spring. It thrives in average soil and prefers full sun to part shade. If happy in its spot, it will naturalize and make a nice groundcover.

Eastern Bluestar (Amsonia tabernaemontana) is a new favorite of mine. This spring bloomer grows about 2 ft. high and wide. It produces beautiful pale blue star-shaped flowers in clusters in May and is deer-resistant, which is a big plus in my garden! It thrives in moist to occasionally wet soil and full to part sun.

A very early blooming Beebalm, Eastern Beebalm (Monarda bradburniana) lights up the May landscape with its fluffy pink blooms! At about half the height of the Red Beebalm and the Wild Beebalm, it makes a lovely front of border bloomer. It attracts bees and other early pollinators and is deer resistant! It likes full sun to part shade and medium to dry, even rocky soil. This variety of Beebalm also has some mildew resistance

Next time: More Spring bloomers!

MAY IS NATIONAL ADOPT A HORSE MONTH!

Chance

Chance went through a very sad rough patch in his life. He was rescued by Last Chance Ranch and is looking for a new happier life. The Ranch estimates he is possibly an Arabian
and Quarter horse
mix, about 20+ years old. He is gentle and easy to handle. He cannot be ridden
due to pre-existing
melanoma growths,
which is unfortunately a common trait in grey horses. Chance
would love a quiet
retirement with a grass pasture for his golden years!

Penny Power has featured several nice horses throughout the month of May for National Adopt A Horse month. We understand that not everyone is able to adopt a horse. But if you love horses and want to learn more about them, check out Last Chance Ranch in Quakertown.

Last Chance Ranch offers horseback riding lessons and summer horse camp for children. You will learn the fundamentals of riding and horse care plus information about horse breeds, colors and more.

If horseback riding isn't the right opportunity for you and you still want to help a horse in need, Last Chance Ranch also offers a sponsorship program. For $45, you can sponsor a particular horse.
The money you donate will go directly to the care of the animal you choose.

Horses are wonderful, beautiful, majestic animals. But you absolutely need the right space, right knowledge and ability in order to give them the home they need.
We are fortunate to have Last Chance Ranch here in our community, not only helping horses, but also providing us an opportunity to learn about and appreciate these graceful thousand pound wonders.
