of Northeast Native Perennials

Planning Your Habitat Garden

Now that you've mapped and identified what you already have in your garden, it is important to assess how much sun your garden areas receive throughout the day and if you have any damp/wet or dry areas or shady spots. This is important for your plant selection; choosing the right native plants for the right place is key to success. You can also test your soil PH, especially if you want to plant things like Blueberries, Rhododendron or other acid-loving plants.

Okay, it's time for the fun part...selecting what plants you will add to your garden to create a new and improved habitat for your local wildlife! Remember, you are trying to have a "bird's eye view" of your garden. Layering is an important part of building a habitat. Layers of vegetation, trees, shrubs and herbaceous perennials all play an important role in your habitat. Since the goal of a habitat garden is to support and sustain wildlife, the layering provides food, shelter and nesting sites for a range of different wildlife.

Let's talk about trees! For a Pennsylvania habitat, and if you have the space to add it, Oaks (Quercus sp.) are the most valuable in terms of being a host plant for hundreds of pollinator species. It obviously provides cover and nesting sites for birds and squirrels as well as the acorns providing food for other wildlife. Next consider Serviceberry (Amelanchier sp.) for their early blossoms for pollinators and berries in June for birds. Last year my Serviceberry hosted some beautiful Cedar Waxwings feasting on the berries! Eastern Red Cedar (Juniperus virginiana), being evergreen, it provides exceptional cover and produces blue berries in fall which the birds love!

Next time: More trees and shrubs for your habitat!

WE ARE STUFFED! Primitives, vintage, yard art & more! In the greenhouse behind KEYSTONE RECLAIMED LUMBER, 255 Rte 313 (near 5th Street intersection), Perkasia. Tuesday-Saturday, 8:30am-5pm. Stop in for unique pieces and the best prices!

PET OF THE WEEK

ELY & ELLIE

Meet Ely and Ellie!

If a picture says a thousand words, we're pretty sure 999 of those words would be AWWWW!!! Yes, yes, we really are this adorably bonded! We've heard about siblings who don't get along, but that is definitely not us (ok, sometimes treat time--aka snack-stealing time--gets spicy). We were rescued from a struggling outdoor cat colony and are approximately 2 years old. As the protective brother, I take it upon myself to inspect all new toys to make sure they're safe and adequately fun for Ellie, and I'm also the self-appointed chief-taste-tester who will sample all meals and snacks first--a role that my sister does not seem to appreciate enough, as I'm clearly looking out for her and not at all being a greedy little food-hogging piggie. Sheesh. Anyway, we're both super sweet and on the shy side, so we might take a little time to get used to our new home. But we will! And we will fill your days with ridiculously adorable sibling snuggles, snacktime drama, and a love for you that rivals the love we have for each other. If you have a quiet, dog-free home, and if you have room in your heart for two sweet siblings in need, you could be just the person we've been waiting for.

To meet Ely and Ellie, go to straycatblues.org or call 215-631-1851. Stray Cat Blues is a 501(c)(3) non-profit that's been rescuing area cats for more than 25 years. In addition to fostering and adopting friendly cats and kittens, we Trap, Neuter and Return (TNR) feral cats.

DJ OLDIES DANCE Saturday, April 25, 7pm-10pm. Doors open 6:30pm. Sparks Senior Center 312 Alumni Avenue, Harleysville. $12. Water, ice and snacks provided, BYOB. Proceeds benefit Meals on Wheels program. More information: lindahlove@hotmail.com

Putt U is the winner of Penny Power's 2026 Readers' Choice Award for Best Miniature Golf, so of course, it's a great, fun place to mini golf! Putt U is a miniature golf experience like you've never seen! They feature TWO world class 18 hole miniature golf courses where the holes are long and winding, and offer a challenge to both kids and adults. This week's winner will receive four (4) free passes (a $36 value), each redeemable for one round of miniature golf at Putt U, 5201 Route 309, Center Valley, a great family outing. We thought about hiding a golf ball this week. But after the baseball and the bunny in the cupcake incidents, we thought that might not be our best idea. So instead you are going to need to search for 10 super cute guinea pigs. Guinea pigs are awesome pets. They like to eat lettuce and they like to squeak and they often hide under their tunnels so you can't see them. We don't think you'll need your magnifying glass this time but finding those piggies could be a lot like the course at Putt U, filled with winding curves offering a bit of a challenge. So tee up and get ready to find those squeaky guinea pigs. Write the names of the companies where the guinea pigs are hiding on the lines below. Your correct entry will be entered into the drawing for four free passes to miniature golf at Putt U. You'll be "popcornin'" with excitement once you find all 10. Enjoy wiggling through the ads and Good Luck!

This is the guinea pig you must find, but this one does not count

Entries must be received by noon on Friday, May 8th, 2026.
