SOURFUL MYSTERY

Our new MARGARITA-INSPIRED SOUR employs sea salt, agave nectar, brown rice, and lime zest in our ongoing effort to turn those frowns upside-down, hat-tipping St. Peter, inverting expectations either margarita or sour alone would limit one's imagination to vis-a-vis mystery.

MOCHA ROMCOM

Our newest in the blessed Imperial Stout genre is smooth yet strong, interesting in its cacao nib chocolateness, naughty in its lusciousness, a Black and Tan coffee from Uncommon Grounds Grand Rapids morning/noon/night beer that slides down yer gullet as if ye had swallowed an elixir bestowed by yer own personal godhead; kind of like a fine romantic comedy, especially during the Holiday Season!

THAMES THE BREAKS, INNIT?

Our English Mild is a great example of the manner in which we mimic the local water makeup of our global beers, meaning this bloody bastard of a British beer has the backbone of the river Thames, old boy. Simpsons malts make it eligible for walkabout.

ROOT DOWN

Our BELGIAN TABLE BEER is born of 25lbs of Granor Farms' Purple Daikon radishes added to the mash along with pilsen and oats, then Styrian Goldings in the kettle and dry hop. Fermented with Saison yeast, Brettanomyces Bruxellensis bottle-conditioned bottles coming soon. The ultimate Brewers' brew of a beer.
