WELCOME

Cristina Goletti, Dean

College of Performing and Visual Arts

Welcome to our 2022-2023 season!

¡Bienvenid@s a nuestra nueva
temporada de arte!

We are thrilled to present you with an incredible lineup of music, theatre, dance, musical theatre, exhibitions, opera, festivals, and so much more.

The College of Performing and Visual Arts at UNC is a place where passion and aptitude are transformed into the professional skills that create a foundation for a meaningful career in the arts, and we are so proud of the work our students, faculty, and staff create—we can't wait to welcome you into our spaces!

Our season brochure highlights our PVA Signature events, the Theatre & Dance season, our UNC Galleries programming, and our festivals and external partnerships. See the full digital brochure at <https://adobe.ly/3QPy28A>.

We strongly believe that our cultural offerings positively contribute to the quality of life in the Northern Colorado area and beyond, and we hope you will join us for what promises to be an unforgettable season.

¡Esperamos verte pronto!

Composers

Aaron McMichael

Born July 2nd, 1979 in Biloxi, Mississippi. Mr. McMichael started his music career at the age of 5 in Panama. He first learned to play violin and eventually started trumpet at the age of 10. He then went on to earn his A.A. from Jones County Junior College, B.M.E. from Troy State University, and M.M. from University of Texas at Brownsville. Mr. McMichael has been active as a band director, composer, and music producer over the last 19 years. He is a member of the Texas Band Masters Association, Association of Texas Small School Bands, Texas Music Educators Association, American School Band Directors Association, and a member of (BMI). Recently The Brave Warrior, The Conquest, and Sunrise by South Padre Island were named a JWPepper Editors Choice and Listeners Choice Honorable Mention. Angels in the Sky is also an ATSSB Honorable Mention for 2021. 2022 Mr. McMichael has accomplished 4 huge mile stones: marched the Rose Bowl Parade on New Years Day, won the Grand Mesa Composition Competition, took a Sub-Non Varsity Middle School Band to UIL and received a sweepstakes, and took Progreso H.S. Band (3A) to Area E Marching Competition for the first time in school history.

Composers

Kevin Poelking

Unique, thoughtful, and meticulously crafted, Kevin Poelking's work is quickly emerging in the world of modern music. Always mindful of contributing purposefully to the repertoire, Poelking considers the experience of audience members, musicians, and conductors from the outset of his creative process.

Kevin Poelking began his musical career as an educator, performer, and conductor. Completely self-taught in the craft of composition at this point, Poelking began submitting a few of his works to competitions. Many of the first performances of his works occurred outside of the United States with professional and university ensembles in Romania, Italy, France, and Spain. During this time, he also dabbled in writing music for media, working for clients including VicFirth.com, The March of Dimes, and the University of Southern Mississippi. Years later he would record with The Budapest Scoring Orchestra, the ensemble that provided music for the Oscar-winning film "Parasite" and Netflix's "Squid Games".

At the encouragement of many of his mentors, Poelking began to pursue composing music more seriously. While completing his studies in conducting at Colorado State University, Dr. Rebecca Phillips (Director of Bands, Past-President of NBA) advised Poelking to begin studying with award-winning composer Dr. James M. David. In the final year of his degree, he was named Graduate Student of the Year by the School of Music, Theatre, and Dance and won the 2018 CSU Graduate Showcase with his first piece for chamber wind ensemble.

When Poelking made the career switch to composing, he was quickly named a winner or top finalist in several competitions including The NBA/ William D. Revelli Memorial Composition Contest (2022 Finalist), The American Prize (3rd Prize and two-time National Semi-Finalist), The Dallas Winds Fanfare Competition (2019 Winner), The Reno Pops Composer's Showcase (2nd Prize), and The Minot Symphony Orchestra Young Composer's Competition (Winner). As his music gained momentum, it caught the attention of Pulitzer-Prize Finalist Carter Pann who invited Poelking to pursue composition studies as a private student.

As an emerging composer, Poelking swiftly received commissions from professional musicians and university ensembles around the United States. This included a new album by Dr. Stanley Curtis- U.S. Navy Band trumpet (ret.) and world premieres at major national conventions (International Trombone Festival and International Double Reed Society Conference). Poelking's knowledge of repertoire from his experience as a conductor led to the creation of his "Chamber Winds Project", which was cited by CBDNA (College Band Director's National Association) as an important resource for repertoire in the genre.

In the summer of 2019, Poelking was selected from an international pool of applicants to conduct The United States Army Band "Pershing's Own" in concert where he was awarded the band's medal "For Excellence" by leader and commander Col. Andrew Esch. He also served as the Conducting Fellow for the Montgomery Philharmonic for their 2016-17 season. In addition to formal studies with Rebecca Phillips, Wes Kenney, and Sandra Ragusa, he has also received instruction from H. Robert Reynolds, Michael Haithcock, Craig Kirchoff, Gary Hill, Kevin Sedatole, Emily Threinen, Pablo Saelzar, and George Etheridge.

In addition to maintaining his schedule as a regularly commissioned composer, Poelking continues teaching as a member of the Colorado State University music faculty. He also serves as Composer-in-Residence with the Greater Boulder Youth Orchestras. Poelking regularly visits and collaborates with ensembles, professionals, and music students. He speaks publicly, guest lectures, and writes about healthy and efficient work habits in the teaching and creative field. He lives in Fort Collins, Colorado with his wife Caitlin, a respected Physician Assistant professionally recognized for her work in family health and pediatrics.

Conductors

Daniel Farr

Dr. Daniel Farr, Assistant Professor of Music and Associate Director of Bands at the University of Northern Colorado, received his Bachelor's and Master of Music Education degrees from Florida State University and a DMA in Conducting from The Ohio State University. His teaching responsibilities at UNC include conducting the Symphonic Band, the undergraduate instrumental conducting track, and directing the acclaimed "Pride of the Rockies" Marching Band. He studied conducting with Russel Mikkelson, Patrick Dunnigan, Richard Clary, and Alex Jimenez, and clarinet with Deborah Bish. Dr. Farr served as a band director in the public schools of Florida for 10 years before pursuing his doctorate. Ensembles under Dr. Farr's direction consistently earned Superior ratings at Marching Music Performance Assessment, District and State Solo and Ensemble, as well as District and State Concert MPA.

Research interests for Dr. Farr include commissioning new music for the wind band medium, best practices for middle and high school bands, and mental health awareness for music educators. He is actively sought after as a concert clinician and clarinet pedagogue. Daniel Farr's professional affiliations include the College Band Directors National Association, the Florida Music Educators Association, Colorado Music Educators Association, Colorado Bandmasters Association, and NAFME: the National Association for Music Education.

Conductors

Wesley J. Broadnax

Wesley J. Broadnax is in his fourth year as Associate Professor of Music/Director of Bands at the University of Northern Colorado (Greeley, CO), where he conducts the Wind Ensemble, Chamber Winds, and guides all aspects of the wind band and graduate wind conducting programs. Prior to his appointment at UNC, he held similar appointments at Drexel University, University of Delaware, California State University-East Bay, and Michigan State University. He is also Assistant Conductor of the Newark Symphony Orchestra (Delaware).

A native of Texas, Dr. Broadnax received his bachelor's degree in music education from Stephen F. Austin State University and taught for several years in the Texas Public Schools. He received both the master's and doctoral degrees in Wind Conducting from Michigan State University. While at Michigan State University, he was a regular performer on bass trombone and euphonium, where he was a member of the West Shore Symphony, Greater Lansing Symphony, Grand Rapids Symphony, Jackson Symphony, Kalamazoo Symphony, and Midland Symphony, in addition to various chamber ensembles that included both the West Shore Symphony Brass Trio and Capitol Brass Quartet in Lansing. In California, he performed as bass trombonist with the Silicon Valley Symphony and Mission Chamber Orchestra. His conducting teachers include John L. Whitwell and Frank L. Battisti; his bass trombone/euphonium teachers have included Nathaniel Brickens, Curtis R. Olson, Philip Sinder, J. Mark Thompson, and William Young.

Dr. Broadnax maintains an active schedule as a guest conductor, clinician and adjudicator. He has conducted several All-State and honor bands both nationally and internationally, and has presented resident conducting seminars at Michigan State University, University of Alaska-Fairbanks, Indiana State University, Bemidji State University, St. Ambrose University, and Mansfield University. Guest conducting engagements include the 56th Annual Stanislaus County Junior High School Music Festival in Modesto, Calif., and the Fresno-Madera Counties Music Educators Association in Reedley, Calif. As adjudicator, he has adjudicated the Central Jersey Concert Band Festival (CJMEA)--South Brunswick, NJ, Western Band Association Concert Band Festival in Atherton, Calif., and conducted the Rocky Mountain Honour Band in Calgary, Alberta (Canada), 2nd Honor Band Invitational (Savannah State University), All-South Honor Band (University of Southern Mississippi), and the Michigan Intercollegiate Honor Band (Grand Rapids, MI).

Most recently, he served as guest conductor for the Temple Wind Symphony (Temple University), Philadelphia All City Concert Band, and is a frequent guest conductor of the Philadelphia Wind Symphony. He is a strong advocate of new music and has won the praises of several composers, including Joseph Schwanter, David Maslanka, Michael Weinstein, Dana Wilson, Jere Hutcheson, Paul Barsom, Davide Zannoni, Lawrence Singer, Joel Puckett, Nicholas Vasallo, Stephen Rush, Marko Bajzer, Angelo Sormani, Raphael Fusco, Drew Michael McWeeney, and Eric Sessler. He participated in the Pierre Boulez Symposium on 20th Century Contemporary Music at Carnegie Hall in New York City, the focal work being the composer's Le Marteau Sans Matre, with members of Ensemble Intercontemporain. In the summer of 2002, Dr. Broadnax completed a four-week residency as a conducting fellow at the Boston University Tanglewood Institute, where he co-conducted the Young Artists Wind Ensemble and Chamber Music Program with master teacher Frank L. Battisti. In addition, Dr. Broadnax served as guest conductor for the Greater Lansing Symphony Orchestra Children's concert series in Spring 2005 titled The Circle of Life, as part of its Black History Celebration. He also served for three years as music director/conductor for the Lansing Concert Band, and two seasons for the Oakland Municipal Band (California). Scholarship & Research activities include presentations at the Conductors Guild National Conference (Chicago), Delaware Music Educators Association (Smyrna, DE), Schwanter Music Festival (Newark, DE), and published articles on a variety of topics related to music education—including a recent article titled Ensemble Intonation: Five Strategies for Long-Term Improvement for the School Band & Orchestra Magazine (SBO). He continues guest conducting engagements throughout Italy each summer, as part of the International Music Project (IMP), and has recently presented concerts in both Italy and Spain during Winter 2019.

Dr. Broadnax holds professional membership with the College Band Directors National Association (CBDNA), International Music Project (IMP), Colorado Music Educators Association (CMEA), Phi Beta Mu, International Trombone Association (ITA), Musical Fund Society of Philadelphia, and he is an honorary member of Kappa Kappa Psi, Tau Beta Sigma, Phi Mu Alpha and Pi Kappa Lambda organizations.

Conductors

Kenneth Singleton

Recently retired as Director of Bands at the University of Northern Colorado (UNC), Singleton's responsibilities included conducting the Wind Ensemble and Concert Band, and administering all aspects of the band program. He also served as chair of the Graduate Wind Conducting program.

Singleton has served as Director of Concert Bands at New Mexico State University, and has directed ensembles at the Hartt School of Music, Albertus Magnus College, and Yale University. He holds a bachelor's degree from the University of South Florida, and two master's degrees from the Yale University School of Music. His doctorate in tuba performance was the first awarded by Yale University.

An avid transcriber of brass music (over 1,000 titles) and a music editor for the Charles Ives Society, Singleton has more than 100 publications to his credit, mainly works for band and wind ensemble. His editions of music by American composer Charles Ives have been recorded by the Chicago Symphony, the St. Louis Symphony, the Concertgebouw Orchestra, the Cleveland Orchestra, and numerous other ensembles. Since stepping down as conductor of the Denver Brass, the region's premiere brass ensemble, Singleton was welcomed back this year to conduct their Memorial Day concert.

As a guest clinician and conductor, Singleton has conducted All-State Bands in New York, New Mexico, Tennessee, North Dakota and Colorado. He has been named UNC's College of Performing and Visual Arts Scholar of the Year, and has received the Kappa Kappa Psi Distinguished Service to Music Award. Singleton is a member of the Colorado Bandmasters Association Hall of Fame, and a member of the American Bandmasters Association, a prestigious organization that represents American bands to the world.

"The Boulder Concert Band is proud that such a distinguished conductor as Ken Singleton has chosen to be our director," commented Bernard Buster, president, Boulder Concert Band Board of Directors. "We look forward to a long and musically engaging tenure under his direction."

In his spare time, Singleton has hiked and/or backpacked the 500-mile Colorado Trail three times, and is less than 50 miles shy of completing it a fourth time.

Danh Pham is a Conn-Selmer Educational Clinician, and the Music Director for both the Washington-Idaho Symphony Orchestra and the Coeur d'Alene Symphony Orchestra. He currently serves as Conductor of the WSU Symphony Orchestra, and Director of Bands at Washington State University. In addition to directing the WSU Symphony Orchestra and Symphonic Wind Ensemble, he conducts the WSU Opera and Musical Theatre, and teaches Instrumental Conducting and Symphonic Literature courses.

Originally from Honolulu, Hawaii, Dr. Pham received his degrees from DePauw University, Indiana University, and the University of Oklahoma. His conducting mentors include Ray Cramer, Stephen Pratt, William Wakefield, Craig Pare', Orcenith Smith, and Harry Blake. Prior to his appointment at Washington State University, Dr. Pham held similar posts at McMurry University, Western Oregon University, Salem-Keizer Public Schools, and the Beaverton (OR) School District.

All-State Conductors

Dr. Richard Mayne

Guest Conductor
Retired Director of Bands
University of Northern Colorado

Richard Mayne is Emeritus Professor of Music at the University of Northern Colorado (UNC) in Greeley, Colorado where he conducted the Symphonic Band, taught conducting, supervised student teachers, directed the marching band, and taught other music education courses as needed. Along with his curricular responsibilities, he produced seven CD recordings (each featuring all of the UNC bands), as well as the annual promotional recording for the Grand Mesa Music publishing company for the past 25 years. In addition, he was coordinator/host of the annual UNC Conducting Symposium, which featured the UNC Symphonic Band as the clinic ensemble. He was co-administrator for the Colorado All-State Bands Festival for 27 years.

Dr. Mayne is an active guest conductor, clinician, and adjudicator throughout the United States, Canada, Japan, China, and Lebanon. He has served as the conductor in residence for two semesters at the Musashino Academia Musicae in Tokyo Japan. He is an elected member of the American Bandmasters Association (ABA) and served on its Board of Directors. In 2013 he was inducted into the Colorado Bandmasters Hall of Fame as an honorary member. Dr. Mayne is a supporter of traditional wind band repertoire while also encouraging current composers and new music. He has served on the National Band Association – Revelli Composition Contest selection committee, the American Bandmasters Association - Ostwald Composition Contest Selection committee, and on the Grand Mesa Music selection committee for 25 years.
