HELLERTOWN HISTORICAL SOCIETY TALKS IN THE TAVERN
SERIES: THE COLONIAL BEGINNINGS OF AMERICAN CURRENCY: Thursday, October 15 at 7pm. As America's 250th anniversary celebrating the separation from Britain continues, Quakertown resident, John Ambrose, discusses a very practical obstacle along the path to our country's independence; how to finance the Revolutionary War and conduct commerce in the absence of a banking system. The evolution of money, especially early colonial paper currency, tells a fascinating story about the birth of our democracy. Every colonial note was hand-signed in ink, often by leaders in society who also were leading the struggle for freedom. Meet some of these patriots who risked it all in the colonies' fight for freedom. Learn their stories by examining actual colonial notes that bear their names, and explore how currency and colonial coinage was used. There is no charge for this program. The public is welcome to attend. Seating is limited to 45 persons. Doors open @ 6:30PM.

PERKASIE HISTORICAL SOCIETY FALL SPEAKER SERIES 2026
Tuesday, October 6
MY DEAR GENERAL - The Extraordinary Relationship between George Washington and the Marquis de Lafayette (the 3rd book of the "I Knew George Washington" series). My Dear Général divulges to us the meteoric father and son relationship forged between Washington and the young and vibrant French aristocrat who traveled from France to fight in the American Revolution at the side of George Washington. The orphaned Lafayette finds fatherly qualities in the stately Virginian and the reverse is true for a childless George Washington. The camps of the Continental army and battlefields of the Revolutionary War are witness to the development of one of the most incredible relationships in history. Reservations for dinner are necessary. The cost is $15, please call 215-257-9624. Dinner begins at 6:30. Presentation begins approximately 7:15. St. Stephen's UCC, 110 N. 6th Street, Perkasie.

THUMBS DOWN
Self-driving cars can't come soon enough! So many drivers seem to believe they have the right of way, no matter what. Yellow lines on the road apparently only apply to the other driver. Please drivers - stay on your own side of the road. You do not have the right of way to turn left in front of oncoming traffic. And you also do not have the right of way to cross multiple lanes in front of other vehicles because you suddenly decided you needed to turn. Safe driving rules are in place so our loved ones all get home safely. So consider this, driver - you are not the only person who matters.

Contest!

Ruthie's
Bakery Boutique

If you love sweets (does anyone not?), then this contest is for you! This week's winner will receive a $25 gift card to Ruthie's Bakery Boutique located at 840 Main Street in Pennsburg. Ruthie's is a small family business where everything is made from scratch. And in case you or someone you know has nut allergies – all her delicious treats are nut-free. Ruthie's carries a variety of scrumptious treats including cupcakes, chocolate chip cookies and cake slices as well as seasonal specialties. Some fall favorites are cannoli cake cup, chocolate cake pops, apple coffee cake, cinnamon rolls and so many more delicious treats. Ruthie's also creates beautiful custom cakes and treat platters for your special occasion. Yummy. Hungry for dessert? But first, let's get searching. A nice hot cup of coffee would go really well with one of Ruthie's sweet treats. And since October 1st is International Coffee Day, we've hidden 10 bright purple cups of coffee throughout our ads. Write the names of the companies where the 10 cups of coffee appear on the lines below. Your correct entry will be entered into the drawing for the Ruthie's Bakery Boutique $25 gift card. Even if you haven't had your morning coffee, those bright purple cups may be just what you need to perk up your day. Brew, grind and pour your way through our ads to find all 10 cups. Good Luck.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED Virgin (never known to fail). Oh, most beautiful Flower of Mt. PET OF THE WEEK

PRECIOUS

Meet Precious!

No need to adjust your readers, folks, I really am this gorgeous. I mean, sure, I've lost some teeth. And ok, my ear's missing a piece. And fine, my nails tend to grow curled around my toe pads. And yes, the color of my lip makes me look perpetually perturbed. But at least I'm not boring looking!

I'm about 4 years old, and I'm about as precious as it gets (see what I did there?). I am unbelievably sweet, and I want nothing more than a human lap to lie on all day long. Oh, and Sheba pate, please--it's so soft that I can eat every bit without making a mess, despite my suboptimal number of tooths. I do not want to share my human lap, so I'd prefer to be an only pet, please.

If you've got a lap available in a quiet home, prepare to become my best friend. Picture our evenings on a cozy couch with my sweet self keeping you warm and happy. I'll even let you choose what movie we watch. Together, we will never be lonely. Come meet me!

To meet Precious, go to straycatblues.org or call 215-631-1851. Stray Cat Blues is a 501(c)(3) non-profit that's been rescuing area cats for more than 25 years. In addition to fostering and adopting friendly cats and kittens, we Trap, Neuter and Return (TNR) feral cats.

GARDEN TIPS

The "Buzz" about Native Plants

By Carol Schroding,
Gardening Enthusiast and former owner of Northeast Native Perennials

More Fall-Blooming Natives For Your Garden

I can't talk about fall-blooming natives without talking about Goldenrod, a keystone perennial that hosts over 104 different species of butterfly and moth caterpillars and provides critical pollen to 42 different bee specialists. There are many different species of Goldenrod to compliment any garden. Last week I mentioned Wrinkleleaf Goldenrod (Solidago rugosa) that I grow in my pollinator garden. It is manageable and beautiful, can grow up to about 6.5 ft. tall and looks like living fireworks in the garden! Mine grows to about 5 ft. It does spread, but not aggressively. If this is too big for your space, consider Zig-Zag Goldenrod (Solidago flexicaulis) or Blue-stemmed Goldenrod (Solidago caesia), sometimes called Wreath Goldenrod, both growing 1-3 ft. and tolerating full-sun to part-shade. These are both perfect for the smaller garden or the front of a border! One more of my favorites is Showy Goldenrod (Solidago speciosa) which size-wise falls in between the two above, reaching 2-4 ft. tall.

It is widely considered one of the most beautiful of the native Goldenrods. It has a compact growth habit and produces upright, dense plumes of golden yellow flower clusters. It makes a bold statement in the fall garden!

Blue Mistflower (Conoclinium coelestinum) provides an amazingly vibrant and rare purple/blue color in the fall landscape and provides important pollen for late season pollinators including the Monarch Butterfly. It grows 1-3 ft. and spreads by underground rhizomes to form colonies. This scares some people away, but don't be dissuaded from including this wonderful plant in your garden. If you feel you don't have space for it to spread out, it can be planted at a wood's edge, meadow or by a stream. I planted mine next to some Eastern Beebalm which also forms a mat colony, so they seem to contain each other.

Want a real stand-out in the fall garden? Try Swamp Sunflower (Helianthus angustifolius)! It grows 5-8 ft. tall with narrow dark green leaves and bright yellow daisy-like flowers with a dark reddish-purple central disc. Blooming from September to November, it supports many native pollinators and then seeds to feed birds in winter. Despite the name, Swamp Sunflower is very adaptable to average soil conditions and is as happy there as in moist or wet conditions.

Next week: Fall-Blooming Native Grasses for your garden!
